

Effective Collaboration in a BIM Environment

Karie L. Johnson, A.I.A., LEED A.P. (AEC Transformations, LLC)

Wednesday, April 18, 2012

Breakfast & Networking 7:30 AM - 8:00 AM

Program 8:00 AM - 9:00 AM

8000 Norman Center Drive, Second Floor Conference Room, Bloomington, MN 55437

Building Information Modeling (BIM) is rapidly impacting our industry in the way we deliver projects and interact with our teams. 90% of this impact is social while only 10% of this is technology.

With experience embedding BIM technology at both project and corporate levels, Karie Johnson from AEC Transformations will share with us lessons learned for effective collaboration in a BIM Environment. Through examples illustrating good, bad, and impossible BIM requirements, attendees will gain insight into the effects various language and requirements have on project teams utilizing BIM and the foundation for their own checklist of items to think about on their next project utilizing BIM.

As the founder of AEC Transformations, Karie Johnson, AIA uses her expertise to help transform business processes and project delivery through the implementation of Building Information Modeling (BIM) and Virtual Design and Construction (VDC) Strategies. As a recognized industry leader with a career spanning both Design & Construction, Karie offers teams a comprehensive and holistic approach to guide companies through the evolution of embedding technology and processes that support and enhance core business initiatives and project requirements.
